Green Snoqualmie Day Success!

Mayor Ross joined Green Snoqualmie team members from the City's Stormwater & Urban Forestry Division and 40 volunteer residents to plant the Climate Change Adaptation Forest near the Snoqualmie River on Park Street. During the Green Snoqualmie Day event, volunteers planted 400 trees and shrubs that will help our urban forest adapt to a changing climate using resistance, resilience, and transition strategies. Thank you to our volunteers!

WELCOME HOME CHICKADEE BAKESHOP

Mayor Ross and Councilmembers Benson and Cotton joined the SnoValley Chamber to celebrate the reopening of Chickadee Bakeshop in downtown Snoqualmie. Following a fire that destroyed their former home 1.5 years ago, Chickadee Bakeshop reopened on Railroad Ave, in a redesigned, bright space serving its iconic baked goods, as well as some new lunch and breakfast items. Stop by. Say hello. Shop local.

November Proclaimed Kindness Month

During the October 27 City Council meeting, Empower Youth Network Interim Director Helene Wentink joined Mayor Ross as she proclaimed November Kindness Month. Residents are encouraged to foster acts of kindness and consider mentoring local youth.
